DOT Reportable Accidents

Understanding What's Reportable, and What You Need to Do

Speak with carrier's insurance company under the direction of your company.

Report moving citation, if received, to carrier.

Complete drug & alcohol testing if required.

Seek medical treatment if needed.

Determine if equipment is safely drivable, or have it towed.

Don't admit anything to anyone.

Post-Accident Carrier Requirements

Gather these facts:

- Exact location of the
- Time of the accident
- Estimate of injury/damage
- Damage to vehicles and/ or property
- Names and addresses of insurance companies of all persons involved
- Names and addresses

License numbers of all

vehicles involved

- Type, make, and model of vehicles involved

Names and departments of the investigating officers

If DOT-reportable, document

it on the Accident Register

Determine if drug & alcohol testing is required.

Maintain a claim detail report diary/accident file.

Accident Register Requirements (49 CFR 390.15)

State regulations vary when it comes to filing accident registers, but most must include:

- The date of the accident
- Where it occurred
- The driver's name
- The number of injuries and/or fatalities
- Information on whether hazardous materials (other than fuel) were released
- Copies of all accident reports required by state or other governmental entities.

Protect Your Fleet from the Risks of DOT Accidents with the J. J. Keller[®] DOT Compliance & Safety Program Management Service!

JJKellerConsulting.com/dot-compliance-program | 844.803.0172